REUTERS/Charles Platiau/File Photo The EU, which is set to begin negotiations with Britain on its departure from the bloc, wants the industry to take part in the first stage of its procurement from 2021, known as the “one-stop shop”. “The one-stop shop is a clear threat to the retail industry,” said a supplier to the retail sector who asked not to be named. “There will be no new stores, no new services and no investment unless they have been approved by the one-stop shop.” The new system will cut bureaucracy and increase the number of big companies winning public contracts, but will make it hard for small firms to compete. The EU’s planned one-stop shop is only the first part of its programme for public procurement. The bloc is set to publish an action plan 82157476af
